

What sites are useful for finding out about future opportunities in general?

push.co.uk – gives useful information about apprenticeships, gap years, next steps after college. Use the student zone to research and find out about possible options.

sacu-student.com – this site helps you think about possible career options.

studyabroad.com – useful to find out about working, teaching, and studying at different levels abroad.

apprenticeshipfinder.org.uk – huge site listing all the advice you could possibly need for finding and applying for an apprenticeship.

parentadviser.co.uk – key site for information for parents. Mostly focused on university courses, but can give advice about gap years, financing and options.

What sites are useful for finding out about universities?

discoveruni.gov.uk – find courses, bookmark them, then compare them on a variety of issues: student satisfaction, earnings, employment, graduate perceptions.

sacu-student.com – this site helps you think about possible career options, but also about what degree subjects best match with your A levels. Useful personal statement tool as well.

universitycompare.com – useful site to see how users rate universities, largely based on student ratings. Useful to see your range of options.

studyabroad.com – useful site for information about foreign universities.

whatuni.com – extremely useful site – allows you to select subjects, find degree courses that fit with your predicted/likely grades and match them, then filter and sort using various criteria.

applytouni.com – great website with lots of information about how to apply, but also individual university websites. Includes guides for parents.

universityfinder.org.uk – lists all the major open days, webinars, and information resources for all UK universities.

thecompleteuniversityguide.co.uk – very straightforward site that lists universities by their rankings and allows you to match your grade to potential courses.

Are you stuck thinking about your future?

Try using website.u-explore.com – it's a careers advice website. Create an account using the school code: 11999mr

This will allow you to search through jobs and options after school which you might not have considered!

anxious about your future?